GARDENS AND WHAT TO GROW.

1 There are so many wholesome vegetables that can be grown here that one does not need to plant them all, but it is certainly worth while to have a good variety. Probably the two things that produce the most for the labor and are most desired in the diet are asparagus and rhubarb.

The asparagus is a fixed area and so might be part of the orchard space and to one side of the flower portion of the garden. Both these plants can be raised from seeds but that requires three years to start in production. If roots can be set out then some returns can be had the second year.

For asparagus, dig trenches 4 ft apart, fill in some well rotted manure, and a layer of earth tramped down. Then plant the asparagus roots so that when filled in and tramped down the crowns will be 3 or 4 inches below the general level. After the level is well established, asparagus will produce year after year with no attention beyond keeping the ground clean and weeding in some narrow every year or so.

For rhubarb, dig a good deep hole for each hill, say 5 feet apart and dump in a wheelbarrow full of manure from the cow stable. Cover with earth, tramp well and then plant the rhubarb roots. Be very sure to get them deep. Dr. McDonald says one of the new improved varieties as they are so much better than the old ones, hardly to do justice to them. If irrigation is not available then arrange to run the wash water on the rhubarb as it likes moisture. Also keep the ground around the rhubarb mulched with rich manure as to hold moisture and feed the plants.

1 In the garden itself, we would have potatoes, carrots, parsnips, beets, turnips and radishes for the roots, cabbage, cauliflower, spinach and lettuce for the leaf vegetables. We would have some other such as peas, celery, etc., that can be grown, if desired. The leaf vegetables are strongly recommended to either home gardeners or to those who grow well with either small or sturdy tools like bread or potatoes.

One of the most valuable winter foods to eat with meat is sauer kraut and it is good practice to put down the small or broken heads and as much good cabbage as required in this way. To make sauer kraut, slice the cabbage into a barrel cut or deep jar, according to the quantity wanted, putting the sliced cabbage in layers and salting to taste, say a teaspoonful of salt to a small head of cabbage. Each layer is then well bruised and compacted with a wooden tamper until the receptacle is full. A cover and weight is placed on top and the jars should be covered the whole within 24 hours. Set in a warm place and allow to ferment for about two weeks. Then keep in a cool place and use as desired at a time leaving the liquid to cover and preserve the kraut.

6 Then there is squash, sweet corn, peas and beans as very good in their turn and place. The beans should include, string beans, broad beans and various field beans such as the Alberta broad and various white beans. Beans are most delicious when used in the shell bean stews that is when the beans are at their maximum size, but not dried out or fully matured. This year, owing to heavy frost, we pulled most of our bean plants up and have pulled them under cover so that they can gradually ripen and dry out. They will have to be turned frequently to avoid moulding.

7 Onions are necessary and do well. Cucumbers and marrow are raised. During favorable seasons and in warm locations we can even raise tomatoes, pumpkins and squash but most the plants should be pulled early in pots in the house if good quality of produce is to be expected.

8 A wide variety of garden seeds can be sold packed in garden seed procured as described in the present bulletin and is certainly a great addition to the bill of fare during the winter. Some nice examples are to be seen at our School Fair each year.

It is quite evident that it requires considerable attention and work to produce and care for all these things. No doubt a great many are doing much along these lines, some more than others.

While markets and the price of farm products are of the most vital and immediate concern my attention is directed also to the ever so important matter of restoring the fertility of our depleted soils. Markets change from year to year but our land resources are not and must continue to be so for the generations to come. Therefore, its fertility should be preserved and built up, and on no account should the waste of soil drifting be tolerated. It is, I believe, the worst possible extravagance that we can be guilty of. Hence we must make, seed down to grass and rotate crops. Clean tillage retains moisture and produces soil in a pretty dry and adverse season. In the long run it is most profitable to keep the soil in good till and not allow it to reach to the conditions of a drifting dust heap, but if it has reached or is approaching such a state then proper steps should be taken to remedy the condition. We have a rich land that should flow with milk and honey, which reminds me that bees do well here, and the climate and conditions wherever they fly the growing are mostly favorable for honey production. The first ten years I have had bees here. I have seen the bees carrying in about 32 sections of comb honey per hive of bees per season.

SALE OF GOV. TELEPHONES TO PRIVATE COMPANIES

It has been realized for some time that the Alberta Civil System of rural telephones has formed too heavy a burden on the Provincial treasury to be carried by the Govt. Civil and small towns will operate as at present, but the heavy cost of long rural lines has become a tax which the Govt. can no longer carry.

As it will be remembered the suggestion was made last spring by Mr. Baxter the Specialist from New York who was brought out to make a thorough investigation into the cost, up-keep, etc. of the system, that the sale of the system to rural or Mutual Companies was the only practical solution. This is now in process of working out, thirty Mutual Companies are ready having been formed.

The Dept will assist with advice and by sending services men at a small cost when some difficulty arises not understood by the mutual. That the lines can be operated on a cheaper basis by the mutuals, that they will be content with a less expensive repair system, and more efficient service is recognized by the Department.

CATTLE TO OLD LAND

Alberta has managed to date some 9,000 head of finished cattle to the Old Country markets, which is a slight increase over the figure for 1933 at the same date.

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

Last week end was one of almost indescribable activity for University of Alberta athletes.

Alma Wilson's football team won the provincial championship for the first time in nine years here. Saturday by defeating Calgary Athletics, 18-5. It was the fourth successive victory for the U of A grid men in the provincial league and automatically gave them the Alberta championship. In Calgary had won Saturday's game by the league's record score. They had defeated the Varsity club, having won three games but the college team was able to dispense with conquest of the players by conquering the southern team to complete their season without sustaining a single loss.

Varsity's grid players will oppose British Columbia champions at the coast in inter-provincial playdowns. The U of A team will meet Saskatchewan's champions, probably Rodina Rough Riders. Coach Allan Wilson hopes to bring further honors in the Alberta Tens in ensuing playdowns.

The local tennis team retained the western inter-collegiate championship over the week end by defeating University of Saskatchewan representatives in four matches out of six played. The U of A team comprised of Barbara Jarman, Calgary, Kay Swallow, Edmonton, Bill Stock, Calgary and Tommy Bellamy, Edmonton.

Varsity's bid for the western inter-collegiate track championship at Saskatoon, October 20th was not successful. University of Saskatchewan retained the Cairns trophy, emblematic of male supremacy, and University of Manitoba captured the Ruth and Co. women's trophy, formerly held by Alberta. Clair McLeod, of a hurdler, won the men's individual championship of the meet with a personal best of 21 points.

First major social function of the current season will be held Saturday October 27th, under the auspices of the Yvonne Society, co-ed undergraduate organization. Female students have the privilege of asking their own partners and added interest is given the affair by reason of the fact that programs are booked by each student.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE GLEICHEN CONSTITUENCY

Since giving the matter due consideration I have decided to accept the nomination recently tendered me by the Provincial Conservative Association.

If elected I will use my utmost endeavor to faithfully represent both the rural and urban parts of the riding, having in mind at all times the best interests of all tax payers.

Having resided for over 15 years in this constituency, with the exception of a short period spent elsewhere in this province, and during that time being in close touch with the farmers of this riding I feel that I have a sympathetic understanding of their problems, which will enable me to pass judiciously any remedial measure which may from time to time be discussed.

Although nominated by the Conservative Association and accepting its platform I am in no sense of the word a strict party man and will hold my self free at all times to support any proposals from whatever party they may emanate. If I consider them to be for the best interests of my Constituents and the Province as a whole.

Yours for good Government.

THE LADIES AID PRESENT SUCCESSFUL PLAY

The move play on which the Cape and numbers of committee have been working most assiduously for the past three weeks was presented in the Memorial Hall Wednesday evening to an audience that filled more than three fourths of the large hall. They came forth of a good time and entertaining evening, and the hearty applause accorded, proved that realization was fully equal to the anticipation.

Preceding the play and during the intervals between the acts, the audience was entertained by selections from the local orchestra who deserve much credit for their progress and work for continued development from that young folk under the direction of Mrs. Hirtle. The members are Miss Alice Bellamy, Andrew Garret, Douglas Shrimpton, Douglas Hirtle and Donald Brown, with Mrs. Hirtle at the piano.

The stage was set to represent an attractively furnished living room and here all the acting was performed with an imaginary kitchen, dining room and railway station. The play necessitated the mentioning of some very heavy bars and these were on the whole well mastered, and no one felt critical about the two or three occasions of forgetting for our actors were amateurs not professionals.

In the long past Gramma Crawford, Mrs. Davis, and Zuzu were on the stage a great part of the time and with the rest of cast appearing at longer intervals. That the players played their parts well was shown by constant applause and hearty outbursts of laughter at very frequent intervals, albeit there seem to be some in every audience who laugh when controlled tears would be more fitting.

Of the players individually Ruth was exceptionally well taken, she had the heaviest part of the play, and in every phase the level of grandstanding, the faithful mirror the forsaken fiancée, the understanding and sympathetic mistress with her maid, or the tragic parts she portrayed them all with a voice and expression that was wellnigh perfect.

Miss Crawford looked the part admirably, never failing in her devotion to Ruth and Walter, very generous in his self-sacrificing desires for his happiness, a profound understanding of the consequences of the underlying tragedy in which part D. A. most strongly portrayed the emotions of the part and a very willing partner and welcome actor to the proposals made by Mrs. Davis. In the serious talk and advice given by Gram at its conclusion held in Strathmore some weeks ago.

NAMAKA FARM

Rev A A Toews with a number of friends motored to Hrusar last Sunday to take part at the Thanksgiving Festival. Rev G Thielman occupied the pulpit.

Mr D Holbert whose house recently burned down has commenced building a new house.

At last a very necessary improvement is going to be made in our school yard. We are going to get a new lawn. The labor is all voluntary. An enjoyable time is assured for all men taking part for the same spirit that prevailed when the pioneers held building bees in Hrusar, Canada more than a century ago, will prevail.

Three students from Namaka Farm district are attending Normal at Calgary this year. They are Henry Thies, John Pankratz and Miss Agatha Epp.

The October issue of our School Falls will be published next week and commence circulating in the district.

Mr O Thielman will leave for Glen on Wednesday where he will be one of the instructors of the Glen Bible School which was organized last year.

CROWFOOT

Gay was the scene and merry the guests on Saturday evening of last week when the adherents and attendants of the Crowfoot Sunday School gathered at the schoolhouse to bid farewell to two popular young people Ruby and Mitchell Garriott who are leaving shortly to attend the Idaho Agricultural College. After a delightful evening of games and music, delicious refreshments were served by several ladies of the community. Mr Norwood then expressed to the two young people in a few well chosen words the appreciation of the S S congregation for their untiring efforts as teachers of the primary and Junior classes, also to wish them happiness and success in their new venture. After singing For They Are Jolly Good Fellows, and Add Long, the guests departed to their various homes tired but happy.

Bang! Bang! go the guns at the Harvey lakes, and W R Harvey proudly walks home with ten ducks, four geese and a wren. Now is this a fish story or not?

Miss Mary Folk of Strathmore spent a delightful week end at the Harvey home.

Mr Bartelen was the guest of Mr and Mrs Cock on Sunday last.

Mr and Mrs C and F Harvey also Miss Mary Folk of Strathmore were guests of Mrs D R Garriott on Sunday last. The occasion being Mrs D R Garriott's birthday.

Mr and Mrs H G Scheer had as their guest for a few days Mr Mudo McDonald of Calgary.

Mr James Barnett was a Calgary visitor on Friday last.

Crowfoot received a frightful wal on one day last week, when one of the most feared and intelligent natives of the district had the temerity to call the Crowfoot Creek, a slough!

Mr W R Harvey, Mr Mould and Mr Jackson all of Calgary enjoyed a few days duck shooting at Hamilton Grange.

Mr Sim Garriott and Miss Ruby Garriott motored to Calgary one day last week.

The community is glad indeed that little Katie Nilsson is able to be around again, after several days illness.

CHEADLE

Mr and Mrs Ray Minnie and family from Ootooka were visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs W H Hartell, Sunday last.

Mr R Craner left last Thursday for his home in Toronto after having spent an enjoyable month with his son, Mr Fred Craner.

Violet Hartell has been ill with a very bad cold for the past few days.

Mrs Wooster is spending the week in Calgary the guest of Marjorie and Miss Dingle.

Mrs Mertgen is in the district looking after business interests.

A number of our young people attended the hockey dance at Glen on Friday and report a very enjoyable time.

Mr and Mrs Sharp were the guests of Mr and Mrs McLean on Sunday.

Peter Courtie met with a very painful accident last Sunday when his arm was caught in the belt of the threshing machine, almost tearing it away from the body. He was removed to the Holy Cross Hospital and it is hoped he may again have the use of his arm, but amputation may be necessary. His many friends are wishing him a speedy recovery.

On Friday, October 26th the 1934 The Path Across the Hill, will be put on at the Namaka Hall. Curtain rises at 8.15. This is reported to be one of the best numbers yet put on.

Mr J W McLennan of Calgary visited Namaka and district during the week.

Mr D Boschman has been quite ill but we are glad to report his condition is much improved.

ROCKYFORD

Mrs M McLean was the guest of home at a surprise party last week at the home of Mrs Gibson, the occasion being Mrs McLean's birthday. Five tables of bridge were played.

Bert Gibson was rushed to the hospital on Tuesday evening of last week and was operated on for appendicitis. We wish him a speedy recovery.

It seems as though appendicitis is the fashion here. Gerry Cammard was taken suddenly ill this morning and rushed to Calgary. We hope it is nothing serious.

Mrs Sangster, Mrs Williams and her two boys Claude and George were Calgary visitors last week.

The Chautauqua executives are very busy setting programs printed. The artists are busy practicing their parts in the Ladies Aid Play under the direction of Mrs P E Stone. Don't forget the Chautauqua commences on Monday November 16th for a five day run.

Mrs Eddie McLean, Boyd and baby Norma spent the week end in the city.

HERVEY NOTES

As regards grain yields we find district not boasting, but of never having a complete failure.

Dan Hiseaux was somewhat under the weather the past few days.

The Ardenode Junior U P A held their last meeting at the home of Mr Keapp and family. They report having a good meeting and also spending a very pleasant evening.

James May is home from hospital and making a favorable recovery. Alice is also doing well by all reports. Several trucks have been busy hauling grain to elevators from this district.

A big farewell dance was held at Hervey school last Friday 19th, in honor of Mr Leonard Licht who is leaving to go to the States. All of his many friends were gathered to wish him good luck. At the supper interval Mr S Sadler on behalf of the young fellows of the district presented Mr Licht with a wrist watch, then all of his friends danced around him in a circle singing heartily. For He's a Jolly Good Fellow, and certainly no one attempted to deny it. Although cries for a speech were heard, Mr Licht was too bashful to say more than thank you. The Hervey district feels that there will be a big gap in when Len has left.

PACIFISM AND PEACE

In view of the disclosures of the international clique of munitions manufacturers with which the press has been teeming of late, it behooves us all the more to keep clearly before our minds the true meaning of national preparedness and the true distinction between a sane propaganda for peace and an hysterical drive toward pacifism.

Peace, that high purpose to which every Christian must dedicate himself, it is sometimes of the meaning of the teachings of Christ, is not and can never be served by the sultry and national propaganda and foreign sight. No matter how unjust any war may have been in the past, war as a means of national defense is not unjust—on the contrary, it has the full sanction both of Scripture and of reason.

To eliminate war, without first changing the nature of man, is a proposal that implies a contradiction. The whole current agitation for pacifism is based on a false conception of both man and of war. Pacifists want to do away with war, but they are satisfied to leave man as he is—selfish, proud, superstitious and greedy.

They tell us of the horrors and the cost of war, in lives and money, yet who, who conscientious citizen, will deny that when national integrity is threatened, considerations of suffering and cost dare not be the first in mind? Because men have been betrayed, because they have been made the tools of conscienceless rulers or leaders, does not justify the suborning of the indistinguishable ideals of patriotism—which include the willingness to fight and, if need be, to die.

Though many refuse to do it, pacifism conceals dangers as great as those of militarism. Either can destroy a nation's morale. If the world were Christian—which it is not—and if there were no spirit of anti-Christ abroad—as there most certainly is—then we should not need to concern ourselves so much about the philosophy which underlies the contemporary movement for peace. No more fertile ground has ever been offered the disciples of Lenin and Stalin. They are the pacifists par excellence—as long as they are in the minority. They have succeeded in allying, in the minds of the half-educated, the forces of Christianity and the forces of war. On that false basis they force their philosophy of universal brotherhood, overments that could not be overturned by force of arms fall of their own weight once the nation's aim to fight is destroyed. At that point your communist steps into control—and witness Russia!—becomes an avowed avenger of Caesar or Czar. A. E. D.

Friends in the Edmonton district are very solicitous that the visit shall be full of pleasure to the nth degree and it will whither can guarantee this a good time is assured. This popular young man, Miss Dixon, and Mrs. Jas. Holmes accompanied her as far as Winnipeg, where she will visit for the next week or two unless Manitoba should be stirring up some of its famous cold spells just now.

Explanatory Note—

The above article was given us by an esteemed friend with the comment here is an editorial along your pet theory, viz. A World at Peace. The Standard accepts its "pet" theory, and feels that there are many who would line up under the same banner. Could it be proven that war brings any good to any people—apart from the profiteer—munition maker, etc., who might be open to some conviction, but alas all that appears is a harvest of broken lives, shell-shocked nerves, blasted hopes, thwarted dreams, and ghastly menial cries.

We still uphold our pet theory though we grant world conditions look very troubled. We still have faith that "the great human heart of us all" will prevail to save this generation from the horrible nightmare of 1914-18.

THE COMING RACE

These things shall be, a loftier race than ever the world hath known shall rise
With flame of freedom in their souls
And light of knowledge in their eyes.

They shall be gentle, brave and strong
To spill no drops of blood, but dare
All that may plant man's lordship firm
On earth, and fire, and sea, and air.

Nation with nation, land with land,
Unarmed shall live as comrades free;
In every heart and brain shall thrum
The pulse of one fraternity.

Stinson, Fancy Work Convener Mrs. G. B. Field and Mrs. J. Nelson, Plant Sewing Committee Mrs. W. Berquist and Mrs. Rowe; Fish Food Convener Mrs. Don McKinnon, Novice Still Convener Mrs. Forrester, Home Cooking Table Convener Mrs. C. G. McLeod.

A Community shower of vegetable and fruit for the Woods House, was sponsored and contributions are solicited.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. Berquist on November 22nd.

A number of local tourists left Tuesday for points South East in search of geese and were optimistic enough to take a truck along to hold the bag. So far everything is lovely and geese play high, but we shall have a long list of feathered casualties to report next week.

Miss Mary Dixon of Dalnolund left by train Tuesday evening on a trip to England, to spend some time with her grandparents over there. She is their only granddaughter and there is much anticipatory pleasure on both sides in connection with the visit.

Friends in the Edmonton district are very solicitous that the visit shall be full of pleasure to the nth degree and it will whither can guarantee this a good time is assured. This popular young man, Miss Dixon, and Mrs. Jas. Holmes accompanied her as far as Winnipeg, where she will visit for the next week or two unless Manitoba should be stirring up some of its famous cold spells just now.

ARDENODE

—(O)—

Mr and Mrs Frank Pavsek were visitors to Calgary on Sunday last.

Mrs W H Knapp entertained for the Ardenode Junior U F A last Saturday evening and all reported a very happy time.

—(O)—

Mrs H Sharran entertained over the week end Mr Howell and son, Mr and Mrs Evans and daughter, all of Calgary, also Mr A H Willis and family and Mrs A Melenduch of Seattle.

—(O)—

Mrs D S Brook was a visitor with Mr Gordon Kearns to Calgary one day last week.

Night marauders are quite prevalent in the district. It will do well to see everything outdoors is safely under lock and key before one retires, or maybe they will be sorry when daylight comes.

LADIES AID PRESENT SUCCESSFUL PLAY

and is more true to life and its tragedy, perhaps it is good for us to forget and to live for a couple of hours in the fairy like atmosphere where everything works out as you wish, where the villain is killed and cupid wins his daughter for a couple of hours in the fairy like atmosphere where everything works out as you wish, even if you have to face the stern realities of life and its problems, the next day.

Behind the scenes, but invaluable in their assistance during the rehearsal and on the night of presentation were Mrs Brundage, Mrs Nichol, Mrs Hirtle and Mrs Leo McKenzie and Mrs Milson, also L. Hand and Ernie Wigan.

DRAMATIC CLUB

—(O)—

Why not a Dramatic Club for Strathmore? Strathmore possesses quite a number who have more than average histrionic ability, and now when the Drama is forming an ever larger place in the development of our people, we feel that a Dramatic Club formed to put on Plays, some of our act, some longer by some of the good writers of Plays, would prove a most desirable addition to Strathmore, even though it does seem at times somewhat over-organised.
